Editorial

The Journal of Architectural/Planning Research and Studies (JARS) is honored to publish the second issue of volume 14 which dedicated to architectural and planning research and studies as an emerging and increasingly vital field. The aim of this issue was envisioned to represent the recent trend of current researches as an integral part of aesthetic and technical investigations which combine the various viewpoints of scholars in urban and architectural design, interior architecture, and urban planning in multi perspectives. This issue covers 10 papers which can be listed as the following topics:

- Guidelines for the Development of Urban Design through Fulfilling Professional Role;
- Practitioners' Viewpoints of Competencies for Entry-level Interior Designers;
- Association Among Fear of Falling, Stress, and Quality of Life in Adults and Older People;
- The Pedagogical Efficacy of Learning from the Built Environment through Real-life Experiences: A Case Study from Communities around Si Satchanalai Historical Park;
- Development Area by Using City Image Perception Based on Patterns of the Land Use;
- Sukhothai Heritage and Tourism: An International Viewpoint;
- Guidelines for Development and Promote Bicycle Use in Green University: Walailak University, Nakhon Si Thammarat Province;
- Spatial Transformation and Accessibility Efficiency of Transportation Network with Land Use in the Context of Chiang Mai Comprehensive Plan;
- Analyzing the Floating Market System in Thailand for Sustainability;
- Flood and Drought Risk Indicators for Small Watershed.

We are also very pleased to present our book reviews of "Architecture and Science: A Reflection of Nature and Universe". This book comprises of 4 mains parts which includes Architecture and Science, Classical and Simplicity, New Science and Complexity and Architecture in Digital World, respectively. We trust this find collection of articles will be valuable resources for Architectural and Planning readers and will stimulate further research into the vibrant area of architecture and related area.

Finally, this issue would not have been possible without the great support of the Editorial Board members and reviewers, and we would like to express our sincere thanks to all of them for their continuous support which has significantly helped improve the quality of our journal. Throughout preparation of this volume, we would also like to express our gratitude to our editorial staff for their dedicated works in getting this issue out on time. And from all of us at JARS, we wish you all a happy and prosperous New Year 2018.
